SEARCH and TEACH Training Workshop

March 19 & 20,
2010

What is SEARCH & TEACH?

SEARCH & TEACH is an early intervention program developed to meet the educational needs of young learners before they experience the frustration of failure.

SEARCH is a 30 minute individual test designed to identify 5 and 6 year olds who are vulnerable to learning difficulty, and to provide a profile of strengths and weaknesses in the readiness skills necessary for reading success.

TEACH is a program of 55 learning activities called “tasks”, carefully designed to address the needs revealed by SEARCH. TEACH is generally offered to individuals or small groups of children with like needs in a centre, resource room, or a small area within a classroom.

History of the Program

SEARCH & TEACH was developed by Archie Silver, M.D. (child psychiatrist), and Rosa Hagin, Ph.D. (psychologist) and the staff at the Learning Disorder Unit at New York University School of Medicine and is based on extensive interdisciplinary research on the diagnosis and treatment of learning disorders. It has been implemented in a large variety of school settings throughout North America.

A number of private schools in Canada have begun to use SEARCH & TEACH to identify kindergarten children who are at risk for learning failure, and offer intervention to these children.

NILD Canada™
is pleased to be able to offer
SEARCH & TEACH training here in Canada.
